

VETERANS VILLAGE SEPTEMBER NEWSLETTER

The only good thing to be said for the arrival of this Sept is the heat should be subsiding. Of course the way this year is going, don't forget climate change, so cooler weather may not happen either. But we can hope.

LABOR DAY WEEKEND

Silent Auction Sept 5th

As I've written before, our charity events, that we rely on to cover our expenses, have all been cancelled. So we've had to come up with an alternative, outdoor event which we hope you will attend. Our generous community has donated many surprising items.

You may remember from our July newsletter that one of our residents, researches all our donated books and other items in order to glean special overlooked treasures and he has discovered many gems. i.e.

A Ralph Waldo Emerson first edition book from the late 1800's as well as other valuable overlooked volumes.

A Barbie doll collection in original boxes.

2 Coach Purses- Beige and Orange

There is valuable art work, antique china with other items too numerous to list.

Other items are shown below.

Signed Disney print. |

Beatle's Autographs I

Longaberger Basket I

Beatles memorabilia I

Round of golf for four with cart at CC I

Please join us over Labor Day and join in the fun.

Goodbye to a dedicated cashier.

Kathy Peelman ret AF
She has stood behind plexiglass, wearing a mask, manning the cash register. Her patience and good nature have been an asset to the thrift store. She has been lured away from us to take on a position where she will be paid and have benefits. She will be missed, we enjoyed working with her.

THANK YOU!!

Vince D'Angona a nice gentleman from Crockery Café, one of our local eateries provided a delicious lunch of sandwiches and salads. It was enjoyed by all. Stop by his café by the movie theater, the food is delicious. Thanks again Vince.

Bob's amazing garden

Last spring, Bob, one of our residents, planted a garden and threw in some sunflower seeds. All summer we watched as nature did her thing. They grew and grew. At photo time they measured 9ft. Bob is a tall man and they tower over him. The birds are feasting on the seeds,

DONATIONS

Our community is very generous, and we are so appreciative. We've are the delighted recipients of two great gifts this month. Two large, bright, colorful signs advertising our thrift store

A new riding lawnmower gifted by a retired Air Force veteran.
